Brookhart Attacks Nomination of Eugene Meyer

LATTER NAMED GOVERNOR FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD

NOMINATION RECOMMENDED TO SENATE BANKING AND CURRENCY COMMITTEE

HUNGER RELIEF $25,000,000 BILL NOW OBJECT OF COMMITTEE PROMISE

Washington, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Nomination of Eugene Meyer Jr., to be governor of the federal reserve board was recommended today to the senate banking and currency committee for further consideration after Sen. Brookhart, republican, Iowa, complained on the floor of the senate he had been refused an opportunity to question Meyer prior to the favorable committee report.

Washington, Jan. 22.—As house republican leaders sought a compromise today on the senate's $25,000,000 hunger relief fund, Sen. Brookhart, republican, Iowa, opened his long-delayed attack on the nomination of Eugene Meyer Jr., to be governor of the federal reserve board.

Brookhart proposed that Meyer's nomination be referred again to the finance committee for further inquiry. The senator said he hoped to obtain a vote on that today. Meyer conferred at the capitol today with Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee.

Republican leaders are confident Meyer's nomination will be confirmed with votes to spare.

Republican leaders made no move for house action on the interior department appropriation bill, with the $25,000,000 Red Cross relief fund rider, when it was received from the senate.

The controversial measure went to Speaker Longworth's table, there to remain until some decision is reached as to the course of procedure, which is expected tomorrow.

Washington, Jan. 22.—The noisy and militant but comparatively small house bloc organized today for another of its numerous sham battles over prohibition appropriations, this one directed at funds provided for the prohibition bureau in the pending justice, state, commerce and labor department supply bill.

The campaign today is not an attempt to deprive the bureau of funds, of which it gets $11,350,000 in this bill. Instead, it is designed to prevent their use for such purposes as wire tapping, employment of informers, setting up of government-owned speak-easies to entrap violators, and use of "dummies" in attempts to check up on bribery cases.

The bloc also has prepared a point of order under which it seeks to eliminate the $500,000 for prohibition propaganda by the dry bureau. This money is designed for preparation of pamphlets and a general program of "education" as to benefits of prohibition.

The wet bloc is better organized for this fight than any it has made hitherto. Bolstered by recent public agitation and by the Wickersham report, the 71 members in the group are attempting to lay the groundwork for a real fight in the next congress.

The interior department appropriation bill, carrying the $25,000,000 human relief fund opposed by President Hoover, confronted the house today, having been shoved through the senate in a night session which marked the end of a four-day filibuster. The bill provides for expenditure of approximately $95,000,000.

Nomination of Eugene Meyer Jr., to be governor of the federal reserve board was the business before the senate today. Senator Brookhart, republican, Iowa, has given notice of a three-hour speech and an effort to have the nomination sent back to the finance committee for further consideration.

Washington, Jan. 22.—An attempt by Senator Tydings, democrat, Maryland, to bring up for immediate passage his resolution to order an investigation of "apparent discrepancies" in the Wickersham prohibition report was blocked in the senate today by Republican Floor Leader Watson.

CLARA BOW'S LATEST PICTURE IS BARRED FROM RIVERSIDE

Riverside, Calif., Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Clara Bow's latest motion picture has been barred from Riverside by the board of censorship "because of notoriety" given the screen star in a Los Angeles trial. Mrs. Jessie Joslyn, chairman, said today.

But Walter Kofeldt, manager of the theater where the picture was scheduled to be shown starting today, said that he would run the film anyway.

The board of censorship planned to meet to determine future action if the ban was broken.

40 GUESTS ARE DRIVEN FROM ST. PAUL HOTEL FIRE

St. Paul, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Forty guests, including eight women, were driven from the Belmont hotel today when a fire started from a short circuit in the basement. None was injured as the guests fled from the building after being aroused by Mrs. Henry Hagman, proprietor, and a crew of firemen who went from room to room.

FIRST OF SERIES OF ARTICLES DEALS WITH ENFORCEMENT CONDITIONS

FINDS FEDERAL PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT "WHOLLY INADEQUATE"

The Wickersham report contained a mass of detailed information and discussion regarding many phases of prohibition. The United Press will present daily for the rest of the week a story based on some phase of the report. This, the first of the series, deals with enforcement conditions.

By CECIL OWEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Jan. 22.—The Wickersham commission has found federal prohibition enforcement "wholly inadequate" to cope with the vast flow of smuggled and illicitly manufactured bootleg liquor sold annually in the United States.

In an exhaustive study of enforcement conditions, described in the report, the commission found that notwithstanding enormous numbers of convictions, the number of violations is increasing steadily and the public attitude is becoming more and more indifferent and hostile.

Testing enforcement by the evidence of liquor prices, the commission pointed out that "while now and then the pressure of enforcement raises prices at some one spot, whiskey of good quality is obtainable substantially everywhere at prices not extravagant for persons of means." For those who cannot afford whiskey, the commission said there was available a large quantity of cheap, low grade liquor.

Smuggling of industrial alcohol, illicit distilling and brewing, and illicit production of wine were named as the sources of the liquor. A minor source is diversion of medicinal liquor and sacramental wine.

Most smuggled liquor comes from Canada and much of this is shipped here indirectly from small islands off the northern coast and in the West Indies, the commission said. The recent Canadian export ban on liquor to this country has not reduced smuggling, the report indicated. Smuggling was said to be increasing despite previous government figures purporting to show the contrary.

The commission reported less diversion of industrial alcohol than formerly due to better methods of control and development of new and improved methods of illicit distilling.

Under prohibition, the commission discovered, there has developed an immense lucrative industry to supply retail bootleggers through illicit distilling operations. Witnesses told of large distilling plants managed and financed by big business methods.

Immense profits are being derived from illicit beer, which was found to be in many places the mainstay of racketeering gangs and corrupt political organizations. The commission's investigators said brewing of beer was increasing rapidly due to the demand in the larger cities.

FREIGHTER IS RAMMED AND SUNK IN FOG

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—The Moore and McCormack Steamship company's 5,500 ton freighter, The Commercial Mariner, was rammed and sunk during a heavy fog shortly before daylight today, one and a half miles south of the Deep Water Point dye works by the Quaker line freighter San Simeon, of 8,000 tons.

The San Simeon stood by and saved the entire crew of the Commercial Mariner.

The San Simeon was inbound from Los Angeles, via New York, with a general cargo. Capt. George Benner was master of the vessel.

The Commercial Mariner sank by the stern. Her bow and part of her superstructure remained above the water and her officers, after being taken off by the San Simeon, boarded her again.

Complete Revision of State Oil and Gasoline Inspection Laws Proposed in Legislature

RAISE HIGHWAY FUNDS PROPOSED IN NEW BILL

TWIN CITY SEWAGE DISPOSAL PROPOSED BY ST. PAUL MEMBERS

2 BILLS TO AID CRIPPLED PERSONS AND CRIPPLED CHILDREN

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Complete revision of Minnesota oil and gasoline inspection laws to protect motorists and raise highway department funds was proposed in a bill submitted to the senate today.

The state would be given supervision over fuel sold for heating plants and coloring of gasoline would be made illegal unless the color was used to identify it as a high grade product.

Other measures introduced included a bill prepared by St. Paul members for solution of the Twin City sewage disposal problem and two bills designed to aid disabled persons and crippled children by affording them better educational facilities.

The bills to aid disabled persons and crippled children were introduced by Sen. John B. Pattison, St. Cloud. The first empowers the state board of education to establish 10 scholarships of $300 a year each to pay living costs. One-half of these scholarships would go to crippled children.

The other measure authorizes the state education board to aid county boards of education in rural districts to the extent of $150 a year for each crippled child for transporting such children to and from schools. This measure, it is believed, may result in establishment of a score of special school classes for crippled children in the state, now unable to attend because of lack of money.

Firemen Save Rep. and Mrs. Bankhead from Apartment Fire

Washington, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Firemen today saved Rep. and Mrs. William B. Bankhead of Alabama from flames which swept into their apartment from an adjoining house.

The Bankheads recently returned from New York, where they welcomed their actress-daughter, Tallulah, on her return from a triumphant theatrical season in London. Miss Bankhead is enroute to Hollywood.

SEEK REFORMS TO SATISFY THE FARMERS OF CANADA

PROPOSALS FOR TAX AND INTEREST REDUCTIONS, CREDIT REFORM

DEBTOR RELIEF, MARKET EXTENSION AND TARIFF REVISION

Calgary, Alberta, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Reforms by the Dominion of Canada's government which will satisfy those who advocate secession were formulated today by the United Farmers of Alberta convention.

The board of directors presented a memorandum which included proposals for tax and interests reductions, credit reform, debtor relief, market extension and tariff revision.

The statement, which was under discussion by delegates, urged the utmost provincial government economy so that taxes might be reduced. Inauguration of a policy to consolidate tax arrears from payment over a period of years with a provision for rebate or remission of penalties was suggested.

The dominion government, under the proposals, would fix the maximum interest rate by legislation and provide penalties for non-compliance. An organization to protect debtors and extension of the provincial debt adjustment act were offered as aids to farmers who had financial difficulties.

Other financial proposals included continued efforts toward nationalization of the credit system, immediate steps to organize a dominion government federal reserve bank of issue and discount to provide credit at a reasonable rate, and canvass by wheat pool officials of the possibility of financing grain marketing through use and extension of the present finance act.

To aid farm product marketing, the establishment of adequate trade organizations in Japan and China was advocated. Negotiations recently were completed for sale of Canadian wheat to France and at present arrangements for sales in the Orient are underway.

Provincial and dominion members should examine various items in the tariff schedule to assure adequate and just safeguards of the interests of western farmers, it was said.

WOMAN IN FARO GAME FLEEDED OF $50,000 IN CASH

ALSO LOSES $207,500 SHE HAD WON "ON PAPER" IN THE GAME

MRS. MYRTLE TANNER BLACKLIDGE, CHICAGO, IS THE VICTIM

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blacklidge, United States collector of internal revenue at Chicago, told police early today she had been fleeced of $50,000 in cash and $207,500 "on paper," by two men with whom she played faro at the Abraham Lincoln Hotel.

Mrs. Blacklidge told Police Chief Thomas Sullivan that she came here last Sunday, at the suggestion of a friend, and gambled with two men whose last names were Reynolds and Parker, but whose first names she did not know.

At that time, she said, she won $207,500 "on paper," which the men refused to pay until she had given cash for a $50,000 check which she had put into the game.

She went to Chicago, she said, and told Edward R. Litsinger, member of the Board of Review and a prominent politician, what had happened.

Litsinger, she said, furnished her with $50,000 in $1,000 bills, which she brought back to Springfield last night. Again she gambled with the men, this time at another hotel, she said, and on the first deal lost all of her $50,000. The men left the room a few minutes later and disappeared.

"I realized I had been duped," she told Sullivan.

Mrs. Blacklidge, a woman about 45, expensively dressed and of very striking appearance, said that Fred Litsinger, nephew of the politician, was in the room with her when she lost the $50,000 last night. Edward Litsinger, she said, also reported at the police station. He said he had come to Springfield to visit some politicians. He refused to talk about the faro game.

The federal revenue collector told that the gamblers had refused to pay her $207,500 Sunday because they said, she had entered the game without cash. She said she had known one of the men in Chicago and that he had played cards with her husband, who died last year.

Both Litsinger and Mrs. Blacklidge said they would return to Chicago today.

"So far as I am concerned it is a closed incident," Mrs. Blacklidge told newspaper men.

"Although I could, I am not going to make a sob story out of this. I am the victim of confidence men, but there was nothing wrong so far as I personally am concerned," she said.

FLU EPIDEMIC NOW SWEEPING GREAT BRITAIN

SAID BY MEDICAL AUTHORITIES TO BE SEASONAL, BUT NOT SERIOUS CHARACTER

AVERAGE NUMBER OF DEATHS WEEKLY IN BRITISH ISLES ESTIMATED AT 100

By ARTHUR F. DEGREVE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Jan. 22.—An epidemic of influenza, said by medical authorities to be seasonal and not of a serious character, swept Great Britain and several parts of Europe today.

Britain suffered the heaviest death toll. The average number of deaths weekly in the British Isles was estimated at 100. The epidemic grew more severe in London, where there were 33 deaths last week, or double the number of the previous week.

Troops quartered at Aldershot were attacked by the invisible enemy Sunday. Two hundred men had been confined to hospitals today. Officials of the ministry of health worked night and day to combat the spread of the epidemic and the public was advised by the press on the best way of escaping the influenza germs.

Rumors connecting the wave of influenza with the poisonous fog that took a heavy toll of lives in the Meuse valley a few weeks ago were scouted by medical authorities.

Austrian Foreign Minister Johann Schober and Anna Pavlova, famous dancer, were among the prominent persons reported ill. The British cruisers Renown and Tiger were quarantined at Gibraltar due to influenza among their crews.

The continental bureau of the United Press reported the situation as follows:

Berlin—Influenza cases have increased in Germany ten-fold recently with an estimated total of from 500 to 600 new cases daily.

Paris—Henri Cheron, Andre Tardieu and Edouard Herriot are among the prominent politicians suffering from influenza. No official figures on the total number of cases are available but the press reports ten per cent of the telegraph workers in the Seine department incapacitated by gripe.

Madrid—Mild influenza in Spain has affected ten per cent of the population of the cities and two per cent in rural districts, according to reliable estimates.

Rome—The bureau of public health says that influenza has not reached the epidemic stage in any part of Italy. Existing cases are light and seasonal.

Rio De Janeiro, Jan. 22.—An epidemic of gripe had incapacitated over 180 government employees today.

DYING, HE KEEPS SILENT ABOUT WHO ATTACKED HIM

Minneapolis, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Although reported dying from three shots, John Wos, 30, helper at the Wabash Screen Door company, refused to tell police today about the mysterious attack that sent him to General hospital.

It was the second time within a week that Wos had been injured seriously.

When Wos got off a street car this morning, a small coupe containing two men pulled alongside him. One of the occupants fired six shots at the worker, three of them hitting him. Two bullets hit his head, the third inflicting a grave chest wound.

Emil Borgart, a fellow employee of Wos, rushed to the victim's side. Borgart said he was unable to get the license plate of the automobile. A police ambulance took Wos to the hospital.

Last Friday Wos was knocked unconscious by two men who accosted him half a block from his home and slugged him.

1 PASSENGER SHOT, $2,500 IN CASH, JEWELS STOLEN

DETROIT-CINCINNATI BIG FOUR TRAIN HELD UP AT GRANTS, OHIO

BANDITS ESCAPE AS TRAIN ENTERED BELLEFONTAINE

Bellefontaine, O., Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Six bandits held up a Detroit-Cincinnati Big Four train at Grants, near here, today, shot one passenger and robbed seven others of $2,500 in cash and jewelry and then escaped as the train entered Bellefontaine.

Edwin K. Nelson, Jr., Tampa, Fla., was shot through the lung when he made an outcry as the bandits sought to search him.

All the victims were occupants of a sleeping car. They were aroused, forced to accompany the outlaws to the dressing room and there robbed.

The train was held up as it lay on a siding at Grants, awaiting another train to pass. Wearing red masks, the outlaws entered from a day coach ahead and began rousing the passengers from their berths. Prodded by guns, they were forced to march down the aisles to the smoking room.

Nelson made an outcry when he was awakened. Warned to remain silent, he again shouted for help and the bandit fired.

Working coolly and swiftly, two of the bandits made a methodical search of the compartments. Bags were thrust open and contents scattered about the car as the robbers seized articles of value.

Returning to the smoking room where the passengers were forced, the bandits began to search them. Women were stripped of their jewelry while the men were forced to hand over their watches or whatever else of value they held.

After all the passengers had been robbed, they were compelled to remain silent while the train continued toward Bellefontaine. As it pulled into the yards, the outlaws withdrew with a final warning to their victims to remain silent, threw open the vestibule door and jumped out.

One member of the crew assigned to the car escaped search. He was the negro porter who took advantage of the bandits' work in arousing the passengers to slip away from the smoking room and hide in a linen closet. There he remained until the train had pulled into Bellefontaine.

Nelson's condition was regarded as serious. The bullet penetrated his left lung and he was in a semi-conscious condition, unable to furnish an account of the holdup.

ALMA RUBENS DIES OF PNEUMONIA

CHECKERED CAREER OF STAGE AND SCREEN STAR COMES TO END

Hollywood, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—The checkered career of Alma Rubens, stage and screen star, came to a peaceful and sudden end last night when she died of pneumonia.

Miss Rubens, once acclaimed the most beautiful actress on the screen, was stricken four days ago in her Hollywood apartment. She was removed to the home of Dr. Charles E. Pfeiffer, a close friend. There she lapsed into unconsciousness, and after 48 hours of peaceful sleep, died at 7:25 p. m.

Miss Rubens gained much unfavorable publicity when it was learned that she was a drug addict. A long battle which she waged against narcotics aroused admiration for her fighting qualities and gained many friends for her.

Narcotics first were administered to her during an illness by a New York physician, Miss Rubens told friends. A few months later, further opiates became necessary and it was not long before she was taking them for every real or imaginary ill, she said.

Her addiction became known when she attacked a physician who was taking her to a sanitarium for treatment.

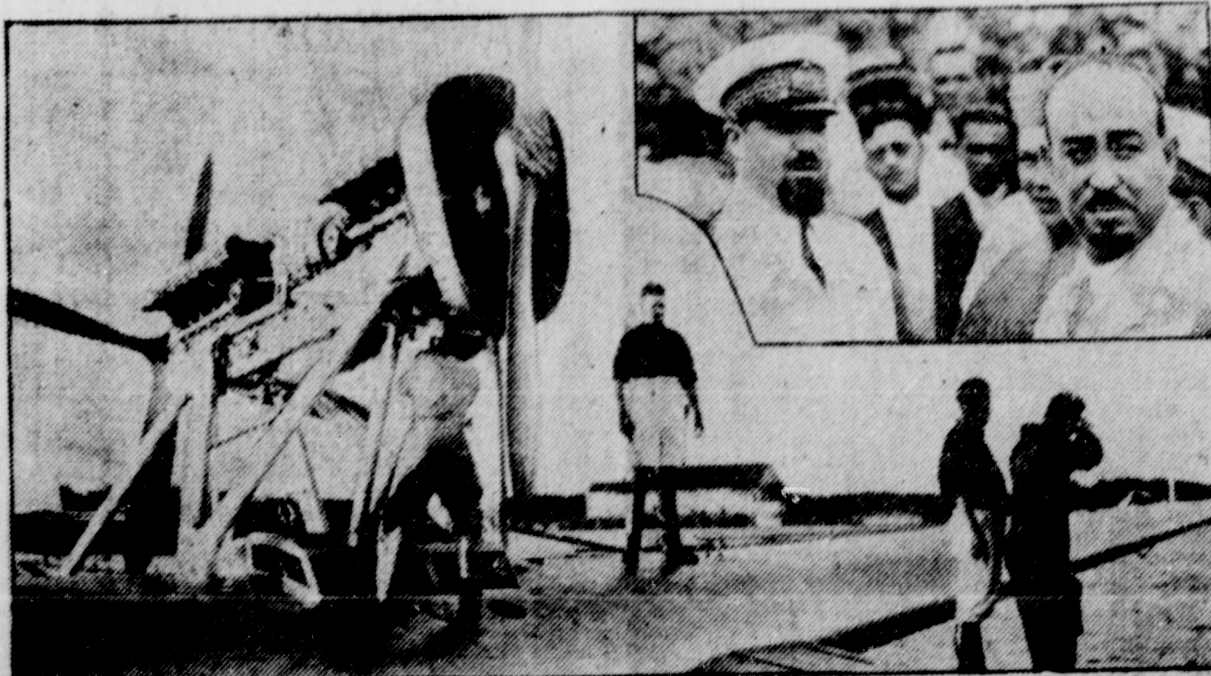

NORTHWEST FARM LANDS ARE SELLING BELOW ACTUAL VALUE

St. Paul, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Northwest agricultural lands now are selling below their actual value, F. W. Klawson, president of the St. Paul Federal Land Bank, said today in a report.

Last year the bank sold 476 farms including 72,000 acres at an average price of $27.34 per acre which is below the 1929 prices and $5 below 1928 prices, Klawson said.

A total of $119,000,000 has been loaned to farmers of this district, which includes Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota and Michigan. Last year, the bank loaned $3,000,000 in response to applications for loans of $10,000,000.

Increased diversification of crops has been a tremendous aid to northwestern farmers during the economic depression, the report said.

The board of directors presented a memorandum which included proposals for tax and interest reductions, credit reform, debtor relief, market extension and tariff revision.

The statement, which was under discussion by delegates, urged the utmost provincial government economy so that taxes might be reduced. Inauguration of a policy to consolidate tax arrears from payment over a period of years with a provision for rebate or remission of penalties was suggested.

The dominion government, under the proposals, would fix the maximum interest rate by legislation and provide penalties for non-compliance. An organization to protect debtors and extension of the provincial debt adjustment act were offered as aids to farmers who had financial difficulties.

Other financial proposals included continued efforts toward nationalization of the credit system, immediate steps to organize a dominion government federal reserve bank of issue and discount to provide credit at a reasonable rate, and canvass by wheat pool officials of the possibility of financing grain marketing through use and extension of the present finance act.

To aid farm product marketing, the establishment of adequate trade organizations in Japan and China was advocated. Negotiations recently were completed for sale of Canadian wheat to France and at present arrangements for sales in the Orient are underway.

Provincial and dominion members should examine various items in tariff schedule to assure adequate and just safeguards of the interests of western farmers, it was said.

WOMAN IN FARO GAME FLEECED OF $50,000 IN CASH

ALSO LOSES $207,500 SHE HAD WON "ON PAPER" IN THE GAME

MRS. MYRTLE TANNER BLACKLIDGE, CHICAGO, IS THE VICTIM

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blacklidge, United States collector of internal revenue at Chicago, told police early today she had been fleeced of $50,000 in cash and $207,500 "on paper," by two men with whom she played faro at the Abraham Lincoln Hotel.

Mrs. Blacklidge told Police Chief Thomas Sullivan that she came here last Sunday, at the suggestion of a friend, and gambled with two men whose last names were Reynolds and Parker, but whose first names she did not know.

At that time, she said, she won $207,500 "on paper," which the men refused to pay until she had given cash for a $50,000 check which she had put into the game.

She went to Chicago, she said, and told Edward R. Litsinger, member of the Board of Review and a prominent politician, what had happened.

Litsinger, she said, furnished her with $50,000 in $1,000 bills, which she brought back to Springfield last night. Again she gambled with the men, this time at another hotel, she said, and on the first deal lost all of her $50,000. The men left the room a few minutes later and disappeared.

"I realized I had been duped," she told Sullivan.

Mrs. Blacklidge, a woman about 45, expensively dressed and of very striking appearance, said that Fred Litsinger, nephew of the politician, was in the room with her when she lost the $50,000 last night. Edward Litsinger, she said, was in the hotel.

Litsinger himself also reported at the police station. He said he had come to Springfield to visit some politicians. He refused to talk about the faro game.

The federal revenue collector told that the gamblers had refused to pay her $207,500 because they said, she had entered the game without cash. She said she had known one of the men in Chicago and that he had played cards with her husband, who died last year.

Boys Litsinger and Mrs. Blacklidge said they would return to Chicago today.

"So far as I am concerned it is a closed incident," Mrs. Blacklidge told newspaper men.

"Although I could, I am not going to make a sob story out of this. I am the victim of confidence men, but there was nothing wrong so far as I personally am concerned," she said.

FLU EPIDEMIC NOW SWEEPING GREAT BRITAIN

SAID BY MEDICAL AUTHORITIES TO BE SEASONAL, BUT NOT SERIOUS CHARACTER

AVERAGE NUMBER OF DEATHS WEEKLY IN BRITISH ISLES ESTIMATED AT 100

By ARTHUR F. DEGREVE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Jan. 22.—An epidemic of influenza, said by medical authorities to be seasonal and not of a serious character, swept Great Britain and several parts of Europe today.

Britain suffered the heaviest death toll. The average number of deaths weekly in the British Isles was estimated at 100. The epidemic grew more severe in London, where there were 33 deaths last week, or double the number of the previous week.

Troops quartered at Aldershot were attacked by the invisible enemy Sunday. Two hundred men had been confined to hospitals today. Officials of the ministry of health worked night and day to combat the spread of the epidemic and the public was advised by the press on the best way of escaping the influenza germs.

Rumors connecting the wave of influenza with the poisonous fog that took a heavy toll of lives in the Meuse valley a few weeks ago were scouted by medical authorities.

Austrian Foreign Minister Johann Schober and Anna Pavlova, famous dancer, were among the prominent persons reported ill. The British cruisers Renown and Tiger were quarantined at Gibraltar due to influenza among their crews.

The continental bureau of the United Press reported the situation as follows:

Berlin—Influenza cases have increased in Germany ten-fold recently, with an estimated total of from 500 to 600 new cases daily.

Paris—Henri Cheron, Andre Tardieu and Edouard Herriot are among the prominent politicians suffering from influenza. No official figures on the total number of cases are available but the press reports ten per cent of the telegraph workers in the Seine department incapacitated by gripe.

Madrid—Mild influenza in Spain has affected ten per cent of the population of the cities and two per cent in rural districts, according to reliable estimates.

Rome—The bureau of public health says that influenza has not reached the epidemic stage in any part of Italy. Existing cases are light and seasonal.

RYING, HE KEEPS SILENT ABOUT WHO ATTACKED HIM

Rio De Janeiro, Jan. 22.—An epidemic of gripe had incapacitated over 180 government employees today.

MINNEAPOLIS, JAN. 22.—(U.P.)—Although reported dying from three shots, John Wos, 30, helper at the Wabash Screen Door company, refused to tell police today about the mysterious attack that sent him to General hospital.

It was the second time within a week that Wos had been injured seriously. When Wos got off a street car this morning, a small coupe containing two men pulled alongside him. One of the occupants fired six shots at the worker, three of them hitting him. Two bullets hit his head, the third inflicting a grave chest wound.

Emil Borgart, a fellow employee of Wos, rushed to the victim's side. Borgart said he was unable to get the license plate of the automobile. A police ambulance took Wos to the hospital.

Last Friday Wos was knocked unconscious by two men who accosted him half a block from his home and slugged him.

d'Autremont announced that he was going to Arizona to look after mining interests there. John Richards, formerly of Minneapolis but now living in Canada, resigned as chairman of the executive committee. His place was taken by Emory Swenson, Foley.

DETROIT-CINCINNATI BIG FOUR TRAIN HELD UP AT GRANTS, OHIO

BANDITS ESCAPE AS TRAIN ENTERED BELLEFONTAINE

Bellefontaine, O., Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Six bandits held up a Detroit-Cincinnati Big Four train at Grants, near here, today, shot one passenger and robbed seven others of $2,500 in cash and jewelry and then escaped as the train entered Bellefontaine.

Edwin K. Nelson, Jr., Tampa, Fla., was shot through the lung when he made an outcry as the bandits sought to search him.

All the victims were occupants of a sleeping car. They were aroused, forced to accompany the outlaws to the dressing room and there robbed.

The train was held up as it lay on a siding at Grants, awaiting another train to pass. Wearing red masks, the outlaws entered from a day coach ahead and began rousing the passengers from their berths. Plodded by guns, they were forced to march down the aisles to the smoking room.

Nelson made an outcry when he was awakened. Warned to remain silent, he again shouted for help and the bandit fired.

Working coolly and swiftly, two of the bandits made a methodical search of the compartments. Bags were thrust open and contents scattered about the car as the robbers seized articles of value.

Returning to the smoking room where the passengers were forced, the bandits began to search them. Women were stripped of their jewelry while the men were forced to hand over their watches or whatever else of value they held.

After all the passengers had been robbed, they were compelled to remain silent while the train continued toward Bellefontaine. As it pulled into the yards, the outlaws withdrew with a final warning to their victims to remain silent, threw open the vestibule door and jumped out.

One member of the crew assigned to the car escaped search. He was the negro porter who took advantage of the bandits' work in arousing the passengers to slip away from the smoking room and hide in a linen closet. There he remained until the train had pulled into Bellefontaine.

Nelson's condition was regarded as serious. The bullet penetrated his left lung and he was in a semi-conscious condition unable to furnish an account of the hold-up.

ALMA RUBENS DIES OF PNEUMONIA

CHECKERED CAREER OF STAGE AND SCREEN STAR COMES TO END

Hollywood, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—The checkered career of Alma Rubens, stage and screen star, came to a peaceful and sudden end last night when she died of pneumonia.

Miss Rubens, once acclaimed the most beautiful actress on the screen, was stricken four days ago in her Hollywood apartment. She was removed to the home of Dr. Charles F. Pfeiffer, a close friend. There she lapsed into unconsciousness, and after 48 hours of peaceful sleep, died at 7:25 p. m.

Miss Rubens gained much unfavorable publicity when it was learned that she was a drug addict. A long battle which she waged against narcotics aroused admiration for her fighting qualities and gained many friends for her.

Narcotics first were administered to her during an illness by a New York physician, Miss Rubens told friends. A few months later, further opiates became necessary and it was not long before she was taking them for every real or imaginary ill, she said.

Her addiction became known when she attacked a physician who was taking her to a sanitarium for treatment.

NORTHWEST FARM LANDS ARE SELLING BELOW ACTUAL VALUE

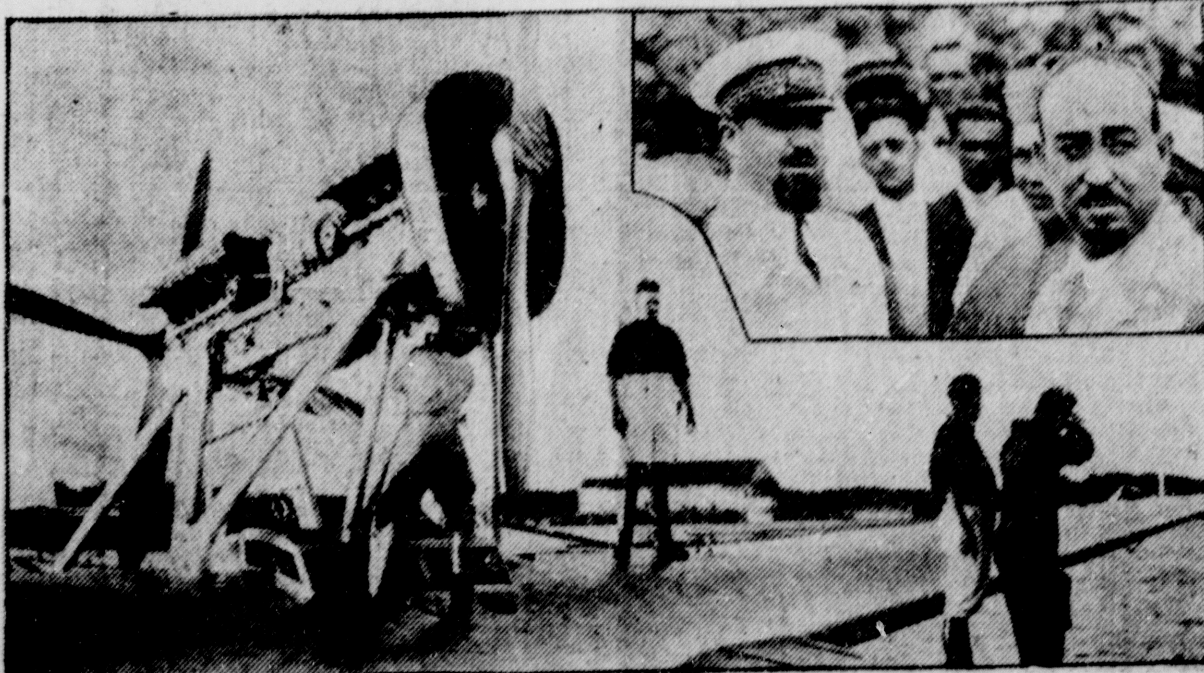

St. Paul, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Northwest agricultural lands now are selling below their actual value, F. W. Klawson, president of the St. Paul Federal Land Bank, said today in a report.

Last year the bank sold 476 farms including 72,000 acres at an average price of $27.34 per acre which is $2 below the 1929 prices and $5 below 1928 prices, Klawson said.

A total of $119,000,000 has been loaned to farmers of this district, which includes Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota and Michigan. Last year, the bank loaned $3,000,000 in response to applications for loans of $10,000,000.

Increased diversification of crops has been a tremendous aid to northwest farmers during the economic depression, the report said.

HIGH CLASS

MEN FROM THE
LIGHTER DIVISIONS

KID BERG, WORLD JUNIOR WELTERWEIGHT KING, ON THE CARD

ALSO FEATHERWEIGHT CHAMPION BAT BATTALINO

By DIXON STEWART
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Jan. 22.—With two world champions in midweight divisions and a championship fight as a change from programs featuring "clown" heavyweights, Friday night's boxing show at Chicago stadium promises to attract the largest gate of the season.

A steady diet of heavyweight contests featuring Primo Carnera and King Levinsky gave Chicago fans their fill of comedy during recent months and Matchmaker Nate Lewis made a popular move in booking a card featuring high class men from the lighter divisions.

Jack (Kid) Berg of England, world junior welterweight champion, and Featherweight Champion Christopher (Zab) Battalino head the card. Berg will risk his title in a 10-round match with Goldie Hess, heavy hitting Californian, while Battalino will engage in a 10-round non-title mix with Eddie Shea of Chicago, ranking contender for the 126-pound title.

Although the Battalino-Shea bout brings together the nation's two best featherweights, Berg's match against Hess is regarded by fans as the feature of the program. Berg, probably the most popular of current day ringmen, will be making his first Chicago appearance in more than two years. The whirlwind English fighter is a favorite here, having made seven appearances in Chicago rings in a space of less than two months, and his return has awakened wide interest.

The National Boxing Association has recognized the bout as a championship contest although Hess is a legitimate lightweight, and will award a diamond studded championship belt to the winner. Berg, ranked as outstanding contender for both the lightweight and welterweight titles, has been established as a prohibitive favorite to win, with odds quoted as high as 3 to 1. Hess, although a native Illinoisian, never has shown in Chicago and is known only by reputation. He is touted highly on the west coast and in his only eastern appearance gave Lightweight Champion Tony Canzonieri a terrific battle.

The Battalino-Shea contest is regarded as a toss-up. Battalino belied suspicions that he was a "cheese champion" when he whipped Kid Chocolate at New York recently and now is regarded as one of the best of current title holders. The little Hardford Italian boasts a hard punch and is a dangerous fighter well able to take care of himself against top notch competition.

SPORTS KAYOES

By "HAPPY"

At last—A BIG BREAK IN THE NEWS!

J. H. Kinney was authorized by the Lions Club last evening to send a challenge to the Rotary Club for a basketball game.

Those who recall the big moments in the service club game last year—the triple somersault of J. Hoffbauer, the dash for the winning touchdown by Frank Johnson, "the Galloping Ghost," and the off-tackle play by "Five Yard" Fullerton—are looking forward with anticipation for the renewal of hostilities soon.

Rumors have it that the Lions have a little unusual strategy planned for the game of games. Could it be that they are thinking of duplicating the famous passing attack of the Bennys of Michigan (Friedman to Oosterbaan)? The Lions also have a Big Ben and a Little Ben, you know.

It is said that Big Business is thinking of putting up a trophy for the winning team. There is much speculation as to whether the trophy will be a jug (no, not a flask), a loving cup or just a plain every day mouse-trap.

If the game is for charity, it is hardly possible that the "Rotes" would turn down the challenge, especially after they failed to accept the most recent challenge of the Lions for a golf match. You see the Rotarians have the little jug symbolic of victory and they feared to risk it after the loss of a star or two.

Never fear, "Rotes," your little golf jug won't be in danger in an encounter of this kind for the Lions have agreed to leave their mashies and niblicks at home if you will only accept the challenge.

Let me forget—the Globe Trotters meet the Little Falls independents in what should be a very good ball game at the high school gym this evening.

But we must turn again to the real topic of conversation that has overshadowed the Wickersham report, the Globe Trotters and even Dorothy Dix—for the LIONS HAVE ISSUED A CHALLENGE!

Hal Day is reported to have put up a barrel hoop in the barn for the purpose of practicing free throws as he sees no graceful way for the Rotarians to decline the challenge of the Lions. Hal says that free throws win many basketball games and may even be introduced into baseball now that Arthur (the so-called Great) Shires is going to play with Milwaukee.

Reports have it that William Graham Jr. is the only hold-out in the Rotarian camp. Bill is a first first tackle and the "Rotes" will need him but Bill points to Hack Wilson and reminds everyone that the Cubs need him, too.

Despite the fact that no definite date for the game has been set as yet, wagering began today on Broadway (a little on Laurel, too). It is thought that the wise money will not be placed though until it is learned whether the game will be played on Tuesday or Wednesday. Of course, the "Rotes" are pulling for Tuesday (their nose-bag day) and Lions would like to call the fracas for some Wednesday after they have done their roaring and eating.

Selections of time keepers and a referee will no doubt cause the boys many thoughtful moments. Honest men—where art thou?

Don't forget that Globe Trotter-Little Falls game tonight in spite of all the excitement over the coming Lions-Rotarians clash. We'll say right now that we think the Trotters are going to have their hands full.

I'll be seein' ya.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

HIGH CLASS
MEN FROM THE
LIGHTER DIVISIONS

KID BERG, WORLD JUNIOR WELTERWEIGHT KING, ON THE CARD

ALSO FEATHERWEIGHT CHAMPION BAT BATTALINO

By DIXON STEWART
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Jan. 22.—With two world champions in midweight divisions and a championship fight as a change from programs featuring "clown" heavyweights, Friday night's boxing show at Chicago stadium promises to attract the largest gate of the season.

A steady diet of heavyweight contests featuring Primo Carnera and King Levinsky gave Chicago fans their fill of comedy during recent months and Matchmaker Nate Lewis made a popular move in booking a card featuring high class men from the lighter divisions.

Jack (Kid) Berg of England, world junior welterweight champion, and Featherweight Champion Christopher (Zat) Battalino head the card. Berg will risk his title in a 10-round match with Goldie Hess, heavy hitting Californian, while Battalino will engage in a 10-round non-title mix with Eddie Shea of Chicago, ranking contender for the 126-pound title.

Although the Battalino-Shea bout brings together the nation's two best featherweights, Berg's match against Hess is regarded by fans as the feature of the program. Berg, probably the most popular of current day ringmen, will be making his first Chicago appearance in more than two years. The whirlwind English fighter is a favorite here, having made seven appearances in Chicago rings in a space of less than two months, and his return has awakened wide interest.

The National Boxing Association has recognized the bout as a championship contest although Hess is a legitimate lightweight, and will award a diamond studded championship belt to the winner. Berg, ranked as outstanding contender for both the lightweight and welterweight titles, has been established as a prohibitive favorite to win, with odds quoted as high as 3 to 1. Hess, although a native Illinoisian, never has shown in Chicago and is known only by reputation. He is touted highly on the west coast and in his only eastern appearance gave Lightweight Champion Tony Canzoneri a terrific battle.

The Battalino-Shea contest is regarded as a toss-up. Battalino belied suspicions that he was a "cheese champion" when he whipped Kid Chocolate at New York recently and now is regarded as one of the best of current title holders. The little Hardford Italian boasts a hard punch and is a dangerous infighter well able to take care of himself against top notch competition.

SPORTS KAYOES

By "HAPPY"

At last—A BIG BREAK IN THE NEWS!

J. H. Kinney was authorized by the Lions Club last evening to send a challenge to the Rotary Club for a basketball game.

Those who recall the big moments in the service club game last year—the triple somersault of J. Hoffbauer, the dash for the winning touchdown by Frank Johnson, "the Galloping Ghost," and the off-tackle play by "Five Yard" Fullerton—are looking forward with anticipation for the renewal of hostilities soon.

Rumors have it that the Lions have a little unusual strategy planned for the game of games. Could it be that they are thinking of duplicating the famous passing attack of the Bennys of Michigan (Friedman to Oosterbaan)? The Lions also have a Big Ben and a Little Ben, you know.

It is said that Big Business is thinking of putting up a trophy for the winning team. There is much speculation as to whether the trophy will be a jug (no, not a flask), a loving cup or just a plain every day mouse-trap.

If the game is for charity, it is hardly possible that the "Rotes" would turn down the challenge, especially after they failed to accept the most recent challenge of the Lions for a golf match. You see the Rotarians have the little jug symbolic of victory and they feared to risk it after the loss of a star or two.

Never fear, "Rotes," your little golf jug won't be in danger in an encounter of this kind for the Lions have agreed to leave their mashies and niblicks at home if you will only accept the challenge.

Lest we forget—the Globe Trotters meet the Little Falls independents in what should be a very good ball game at the high school gym this evening.

But we must turn again to the real topic of conversation that has overshadowed the Wickersham report, the Globe Trotters and even Dorothy Dix—for the LIONS HAVE ISSUED A CHALLENGE!

Hal Day is reported to have put up a barrel hoop in the barn for the purpose of practicing free throws as he sees no graceful way for the Rotarians to decline the challenge of the Lions. Hal says that free throws win many basketball games and may even be introduced into baseball now that Arthur (the so-called Great) Shires is going to play with Milwaukee.

Reports have it that William Graham Jr. is the only hold-out in the Rotarian camp. Bill is a first first tackle and the "Rotes" will need him; but Bill points to Hack Wilson and reminds everyone that the Cubs need him, too.

Despite the fact that no definite date for the game has been set as yet, wagering began today on Broadway (a little on Laurel, too). It is thought that the wise money will not be placed though until it is learned whether the game will be played on Tuesday or Wednesday. Of course, the "Rotes" are pulling for Tuesday (their nose-bag day) and Lions would like to call the fracas for some Wednesday after they have done their roaring and eating.

Selections of time keepers and a referee will no doubt cause the boys many thoughtful moments. Honest men—where art thou?

Don't forget that Globe Trotter Little Falls game tonight in spite of all the excitement over the coming Lions-Rotarians clash. We'll say right now that we think the Trotters are going to have their hands full.

I'll be seein' ya.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

A Point Not to Be Forgotten

WHEN some legislator tells you that this or that tax proposed is to be a substitute for some other tax or is to reduce some other taxation system, take it all with a grain of salt.

The proposed sales tax is to ease the burden on real estate taxes. But who can give any assurance as to what the revenue of the proposed sales tax will be, and who can guarantee that it will be applied as a substitute.

In the same way a state income tax is proposed to take the place of present taxes on real estate and property. As in federal income tax levies, the commonwealth will find many who will not be touched by a state income tax. The tax on real estate and property is a definite one, its yield is known. The proposed state income tax is shadowy, with the yield not known and so no one is in a position to predict accurately how much real estate and property tax it would displace.

There are enough old systems of taxation in use without conjuring up income and sales taxes, etc., etc. What the state and its people want is not more taxation in quantity and methods, but less of the burden so labor and the various industries, professions and other callings, and the farmers, too, may recover from the period of depression.

Baroness Paulitte Depidoll Takes Poison and Dies

Shanghai, Jan. 22.—(AP)—Baroness Paulitte Depidoll, wife of Baron Charles Depidoll of Luxembourg, died at a local hospital today.

Physicians attributed her death to poison taken last Saturday after the return from Japan with Sir Fredrick Whyte, advisor to the Nanking government.

The baron in a formal statement said he had been estranged from Baroness Depidoll since last October. Local papers described the baroness' death as terminating "one of Shanghai's most discussed love triangles." Sir Fredrick Whyte, former president of the Indian national assembly, was a delegate to the Institute of Pacific Relations at Honolulu. He was said to have been one of Baron Depidoll's closest friends until the estrangement last fall.

GIRL UNAFRAID BY GLADYS JOHNSON

Neil Realizes Ardeth Not for Him.

CHAPTER XXXIV.

NEIL flung open the door under the stairs.

"Look, Granny!" he cried. "See who I've brought!"

He rushed the girl before him into the kitchen. The room was shadowy, as she remembered it. One stove lid had been removed, and tongues of flame played about the opening, lighting the room with a red glow. Hunched over it, gazing down into the fire's heart, was Granny Burke.

At the sight of the girl she gave a little crooning cry and rose with a swiftness surprising in one so old.

"Now praise the day! You don't be tellin' me you've brought my girl back again!" She quavered.

"Is it your old sweetheart, lad, that you bring in! Come closer, my dear, an' let me see you. My eyes ain't what they used to be."

The red rimmed eyes peering up into her face, the hand, uncomfortably clawlike, reaching up to pat her cheek.

The smile stiffened on Ardeth's lips and she checked a backward movement. She forced herself to stoop and brush the old woman's face with her lips.

But when she would have seated herself on a chair opposite, Granny pulled her down beside herself.

"Sit where the light falls on you, dearie, so's I can see you. Lawdy me, what a grand young lady you've come to be."

Like Old Times.

"Seems like old times to have Ardeth back with us, doesn't it, Granny?" Neil put in.

"It do, indeed!" The little gray head nodded vigorously. "Many the time I missed you, my dear. The house is so still now. Some Roosians livin' upstairs!" She sniffed disdainfully. "Not like it was in the old days—with you an' the lad scamperin' in an' out after school, botherin' me for bread an' butter. Och, the pretty pair of sweethearts you made—him so dark an' you so fair. He's never had any girl but you, dearie, though there's many the one set her cap for him..."

Nodding and winking shrewdly. The wrinkled hand patting her knee, less, Ardeth had the curious conviction, through affliction, that to feel the quality of her dress.

She crushed the thought as unworthy. She forced herself to be bright and friendly. Turning her gaze from Granny's shriveled face to Neil's brooding, black gaze watching from the shadows opposite.

She answered Granny's pointed questions as easily as possible, and at the time within her mind, was growing a feeling of dismay. She had the impression of moving through a vaguely unpleasant dream.

The old magic was gone. What had been a haven from Aunt Stel's acid tongue was a stuffy, untidy kitchen. What had been a dame of fairy tales had become only an old woman who pined her unpleasantly and smelled of onions.

She tried to stifle the disloyalty. This was shameful—they liked her... they were loyal to her... But they made her self-conscious between them. Granny's too pointed questions. Neil's devouring gaze. She looked into the red heart of the fire and tried to smile.

She spoke of the shop, keeping up an amusing string of anecdotes about the customers, and while she talked she was busy with memories. She was watching the ghost of a slender girl moving through the room—a light-hearted girl who dreamed amid the hardships of this house; a girl delighted merely to go riding with Neil in his cut-down Ford on Sundays. Would she have been happier had she stayed here?

Ardeth wondered. Happier if no Ken had come into her life to fling the shadow of loneliness over her heart?

The old woman's voice was rambling interminably.

The Prophecy.

"I knew they couldn't keep you, with their fine clothes an' high talk. Don't you be losin' heart, I told the boy here. She'll get tired of her rich friends. She knows where she belongs, that one, I told him. She'll come back in the end to her real sweetheart, I told him..."

"Oh, Granny!" Ardeth protested.

The high old voice broke into a cackle. "Blushin' she is because I hit the truth! Why, my pretty, who could be readin' your heart if it wasn't old Granny?"

Unhappy and embarrassed, Ardeth avoided Neil's burning eyes.

"She's young, I said to the lad. Carried away she is by their soft ways, but she'll be back. Nigh to breakin' the true heart of my boy, you were though..."

"Aw—don't, Granny!" burst from Neil. His face was drawn in the light of the fire.

"Why, laddie!" she went on with the innocent stubbornness of the old, "who else should be sayin' the words to bring my pretty pair of sweethearts together if it isn't me..."

Ardeth rose, suddenly stifled. A trap... this shabby kitchen, with its alternate bursts of light and shadow...

"Oh, no, my pretty—" Granny's knotted fingers fastened to her skirt with surprising strength. Ardeth fought the sense of panic.

"Neil, I must go! Can't you—can't you make her understand?" There was a nervous shake in the tone she tried to make light.

Neil stood upright, looking very tall in the red light. His eyes were strangely still. "Yes, ... Yes, you must go."

Out in the dark hallway she tried to gather herself together. "It's been good to see you again Neil. I'll come again—soon."

He was vaguely indefinite in the gloom, but she felt that he shook his head. "No." His voice held that new flat note. "No, you won't."

Ardeth. I guess I understand now. I saw there was no chance. I never had a chance. You've gone away from me."

Her heart was sore with his sorrow. "Don't say that, Neil. Old friends mustn't lose sight of each other. We—we've known each other so long—"

"We're not friends, Ardeth. I can love you or hate you. But I can't be a friend. You've gone away—away beyond me. I saw it before, but I wouldn't believe it. It isn't clothes. Or even the different way you talk. It's you. Yourself. That—that other fellow—he got you away from me and you won't come back."

The quick tears of sympathy were stinging her eyes. "Oh Neil—"

She groped for his arm. He snatched it away. "I told you it was either love or hate," he said fiercely. "I'm trying to hate you! Go on—go away!"

She found herself walking blindly up the dark street, tagged by the lonely ring of her own heels on the pavement.

A nightmare it had been. Good to be out here, free and alone in the fresh wind. Feeling the cool air on her wet cheeks. Seeing the stars. The dark Autumn night was grateful.

A nightmare—Neil left back there in the red nightmare with old Granny. Poor Neil...

"But I can't!" she was crying desperately in her heart. "I can't..."

She was back in before her own dark shop. Reaching in her handbag for her key.

Her heart leaped. In the entrance a tall figure slumped. Someone who raised a white face as she came up.

"Ken!" she cried.

Her first thought was that Ken had been drinking to excess. His face was ghastly, his eyes wild. It was his will alone which was holding him together.

His Haven.

"I shouldn't be here, of course," he began in an unnaturally calm voice, "but I had to come. You see... he died. The baby."

"The baby! Oh, Ken..." He nodded very gravely. "Poor old Colonel. Such a little thing. So little, Ardeth."

"When?" she asked gently.

"Four days ago. They buried him yesterday. Such a tiny casket. I never realized that babies took such little caskets."

"Where is Cecile?" her voice was sharp.

"Cecile? Oh... she's gone away. Her nerves, you know. She's awfully nervous. She went on a trip. It was all planned before—before..."

And there wasn't any use staying here you see. She—she couldn't change matters... So—she's gone. I'm sort of mixed on dates. Days and nights got tangled."

Ardeth put the key in the lock and pushed him gently ahead of her into the dark shop.

She lit the lamp in the back room and looked at Ken. She saw then that he was dazed with fatigue. His face was white and it shone moist in the soft light.

"What have you been doing, Ken?" she asked gently as she pushed him toward the couch.

He looked up in weary surprise. Wrinkled his forehead. "Walking. I think I walked all over the city. It sort of helps to walk. Should not have come here—"

He made an effort to pull himself together. "Get you in a row if people saw... But I couldn't get you out of my mind. You liked the little fellow. I wanted to be with someone who—who liked him."

He sighed deeply. Leaned over and planted his elbows on his knees. Wisely, Ardeth let him talk.

"You called him pretty—" Ken's low voice. "He wasn't, of course... Not like other babies. But I guess even a baby likes to be called pretty. And he was awfully bright. An awfully bright little fellow. Funny, isn't it, it helps to talk about him..."

"Go on," said the girl softly. She had slipped out of her coat and hat and seated herself on the couch beside him. "Tell me some more, Ken."

He slanted a weary blue glance up at her. "Gee... you're sweet, Ardeth. Well... he had a lot of personality. Not like a baby, like an older person, you know."

Remembering the old soul which had looked out of those baby eyes, the girl nodded.

"I had an idea he was lonely," Ken went on. "He seemed to like to be with me. And so good all the time! Hardly ever cried. That was the trouble. Lack of vitality, the doctor said. He seemed to come into the world tired. But somehow, I never thought about him dying. He was so cold. Strange to see death in a baby..."

Why, you're crying aren't you, dear?"

He leaned over slowly and laid his lips for a moment against her wet face.

A Point Not to Be Forgotten

WHEN some legislator tells you that this or that tax proposed is to be a substitute for some other tax or is to reduce some other taxation system, take it all with a grain of salt.

The proposed sales tax is to ease the burden on real estate taxes. But who can give any assurance as to what the revenue of the proposed sales tax will be, and who can guarantee that it will be applied as a substitute.

In the same way a state income tax is proposed to take the place of present taxes on real estate and property. As in federal income tax levies, the commonwealth will find many who will not be touched by a state income tax. The tax on real estate and property is a definite one, its yield is known. The proposed state income tax is shadowy, with the yield not known and so no one is in a position to predict accurately how much real estate and property tax it would displace.

There are enough old systems of taxation in use without conjuring up income and sales taxes, etc., etc. What the state and its people want is not more taxation in quantity and methods, but less of the burden so labor and the various industries, professions and other callings, and the farmers, too, may recover from the period of depression.

Baroness Paulitte Depidoll Takes Poison and Dies

Shanghai, Jan. 22.—(UP)—Baroness Paulitte Depidoll, wife of Baron Charles Depidoll of Luxembourg, died at a local hospital today.

Physicians attributed her death to poison taken last Saturday after the return from Japan with Sir Fredrick Whyte, advisor to the Nanking government.

The baron in a formal statement said he had been estranged from Baroness Depidoll since last October. Local papers described the baroness' death as terminating "one of Shanghai's most discussed love triangles." Sir Fredrick Whyte, former president of the Indian national assembly, was a delegate to the Institute of Pacific Relations at Honolulu. He was said to have been one of Baron Depidoll's closest friends until the estrangement last fall.

GIRL UNAFRAID BY GLADYS JOHNSON

Neil Realizes Ardeth Not for Him.

CHAPTER XXXIV.

NEIL flung open the door under the stairs.

"Look, Granny!" he cried. "See who I've brought!" He pushed the girl before him into the kitchen. The room was shadowy, as she remembered it. One stove lid had been removed, and tongues of flame played about the opening, lighting the room with a red dusk. Hunched over it, gazing down into the fire's heart, was Granny Burke.

At the sight of the girl she gave a little crooning cry and rose with a swiftness surprising in one so old.

"Now praise the day! You don't be tellin' me you've brought my girl back again!" She quavered. "Is it your old sweetheart, lad, that you bring in! Come closer, my dear, an' let me see you. My eyes ain't what they used to be."

The red rimmed eyes peering up into her face, the hand, uncomfortably clawlike, reaching up to pat her cheek.

The smile stiffened on Ardeth's lips and she checked a backward movement. She forced herself to stoop and brush the old woman's face with her lips.

But when she would have seated herself on a chair opposite, Granny pulled her down beside herself.

"Sit where the light falls on you, dearie, so's I can see you. Lawdy me, what a grand young lady you've come to be."

Like Old Times.

"Seems like old times to have Ardeth back with us, doesn't it, Granny?" Neil put in.

"It do, indeed!" The little gray head nodded vigorously. "Many the time I missed you, my dear. The house is so still now. Some Roostians livin' upstairs!" She sniffed disdainfully. "Not like it was in the old days—with you an' the lad scamperin' in an' out after school, botherin' me for bread an' butter. Och, the pretty pair of sweethearts you made—him so dark an' you so fair. He's never had any girl but you, dearie, though there's many the one set her cap for him...."

Nodding and winking shrewdly. The wrinkled hand patting her knee, less, Ardeth had the curious conviction, through affect than to feel the quality of her dress.

She crushed the thought as unworthy. She forced herself to be bright and friendly. Turning her gaze from Granny's shriveled face to Neil's brooding, black gaze watching from the shadows opposite.

She answered Granny's pointed questions as easily as possible, and all the time within her mind, was growing a feeling of dismay. She had the impression of moving through a vaguely unpleasant dream.

The old magic was gone. What had been a haven from Aunt Stel's acid tongue was a stuffy, untidy kitchen. What had been a dame of fairy tales had become only an old woman who pawed her unpleasantly and smelled of onions.

She tried to stifle the disloyalty. This was shameful—they liked her... they were loyal to her... But they made her self-conscious between them. Granny's too pointed questions. Neil's devouring gaze. She looked into the red heart of the fire and tried to smile.

She spoke of the shop, keeping up an amusing string of anecdotes about the customers, and while she talked she was busy with memories. She was watching the ghost of a slender girl moving through the room—a light-hearted girl who dreamed amid the hardships of this house; a girl delighted merely to go riding with Neil in his cut-down Ford on Sundays. Would she have been happier had she stayed here? Ardeth wondered. Happier if no Ken had come into her life to fling the shadow of loneliness over her heart?

The old woman's voice was rambling interminably.

The Prophecy.

"I knew they couldn't keep you, with their fine clothes an' high talk. Don't you be losin' heart, I told the boy here. She'll get tired of her rich friends. She knows where she belongs, that one, I told him. She'll come back in the end to her real sweetheart, I told him...."

"Oh, Granny!" Ardeth protested. The high old voice broke into a cackle. "Blushin' she is because I hit the truth! Why, my pretty, who could be readin' your heart if it wasn't old granny?"

Unhappy and embarrassed, Ardeth avoided Neil's burning eyes. "She's young, I said to the lad. Carried away she is by their soft words, but she'll be back. Nigh to breakin' the true heart of my boy, you were though...."

"Aw—don't, Granny!" burst from Neil. His face was drawn in the light of the fire.

"Why, laddie!" she went on with the innocent stolidness of the old, "who else should be sayin' the words to bring my pretty pair of sweethearts together if it isn't me...."

Ardeth rose, suddenly stifled. A trap... this shabby kitchen, with its alternate bursts of light and shadow....

"Oh, no, my pretty...." Granny's knotted fingers fastened to her skirt with surprising strength. Ardeth fought the sense of panic.

"Neil, I must go! Can't you—can't you make her understand?" There was a nervous shake in the tone she tried to make light.

WET BLOC WINS VICTORY IN HOUSE

$50,000 APPROPRIATION FOR PROHIBITION PROPAGANDA ELIMINATED

Washington, Jan. 22.—The wet bloc won a signal victory in the house today when a $50,000 appropriation for prohibition propaganda was eliminated from the pending justice department appropriation bill on a point of order.

The point of order was made by Rep. LaGuardia, republican, New York, and opened the fight of the wet bloc against certain appropriations in the bill which carries $11,350,000 for the prohibition bureau.

BURGLAR GANG WORKED TO STRAINS OF RADIO MUSIC

Lake Elmo, Minn., Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—A burglar gang that worked to the strains of radio music raided the post office, two stores and an oil station here today but escaped with only fifty dollars loot.

The men gained entrance to each of the places by prying open windows. The thefts were discovered when merchants came to work today and found their stores had been ransacked. At the Lindeman general store, proprietors found the radio had been turned on by the burglars and left running.

The men entered the postoffice by a side window and found several dollars in stamps and change.

Knives, razors and a small amount of cash was taken from the Myer Mercantile company, a safe marked "help yourself" with a card giving the combination had been opened by the raiders but nothing of value was found.

About $10 in loose change was stolen from the Lindeman store where an overcoat was also taken.

The Lake Elmo Oil Co. lost fifty cents in pennies.

M. L. FINKELSTEIN DIES AT ST. PAUL

WAS A PIONEER NORTHWEST MOTION PICTURE THEATRE OWNER

St. Paul, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—A pioneer northwest motion picture theatre owner, M. L. Finkelstein partner in the Finkelstein-Ruben theatre chain died last night at his home here. The Finkelstein chain which included theatres in virtually every large city in the northwest was sold to the Paramount-Publix corporation nearly two years ago.

Finkelstein came here as an emigrant youth and went into the jewelry business. In the early days of the motion picture craze, he disposed of his business and started the string of movie theatres which eventually embraced 150 houses in Minnesota, the Dakotas and Wisconsin.

Several years before the sale of the chain to the Publix interests, Finkelstein had retired from active business participation.

He was 61 years old.

POLICE BATTLE WITH STRIKING STUDENTS AT MADRID UNIVERSITY

Madrid, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Police battled with striking students at the University of Madrid today a few hours after a general strike among students became effective.

The strikers were repeatedly charged by police, who injured several in fighting before the students were dispersed. A group of monarchist youths and legionnaires led the student hostilities, collecting iron bars and clubs for the battle.

The royalist students battled the striking republican students, who shouted threats against King Alfonso and the cabinet.

WINTER RETURNS TO HEAD OF LAKES

NEARLY AN INCH OF SNOW FALLS, TEMPERATURE DROP RECORDED

Duluth, Minn., Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Winter with its accompanying snowfall returned to the head of the lakes today.

The weather bureau reported nearly an inch of snow had fallen during the past 24 hours and a temperature of 2 degrees above was recorded this morning.

Winnipeg was the only northwest point reporting colder temperatures and slight snow flurries. The temperature at the Canadian city was 4 below zero.

Other cities throughout the northwest had the following readings: Moorhead, 4; Bismarck, 10; St. Paul and Huron, 14; Pierre, 16, and Rapid City, 20.

No great change in temperature or heavy snowfall was predicted for Friday.

DAISY DE VOE CALMLY AWAITS THE VERDICT

Los Angeles, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Daisy De Voe waited calmly in court today while a jury of seven men and five women deliberated upon her guilt or innocence on charges that she committed grand theft from Clara Bow, her former employer.

"People ask me if I am nervous," Miss De Voe, one time secretary and confidant of the screen star, said, "and the answer is of course not."

Los Angeles, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—A deadlock still existed in the Daisy De Voe grand theft case today when the jury of seven men and five women went to lunch without giving a hint of its stand on the guilt or innocence of the blonde former secretary to Clara Bow. The jury took the case at 3:20 p. m. yesterday and had spent approximately eight hours in actual deliberation when it recessed for lunch.

EDDIE CARNES

IN CONFESSION

SAYS HE KILLED THOMAS (CROOKED NOSE) MELNICK, CHICAGO GANGSTER

St. Paul, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Eddie Carnes, 38, confessed today that he killed Thomas (Crooked Nose) Melnick, Chicago gangster, in self defense, Chief of Police Thomas A. Brown announced.

Carnes was arrested with six other men during a police raid on the Boyce hotel. He told Chief Brown, according to the police headquarters announcement, that Melnick had attempted to "stick me up and I just shot him."

An unfired automatic revolver was found in Melnick's left hand when his body was found in Prescott street on Jan. 14.

Another man who was arrested in the raid, John McBride, admitted to the chief of police that he was in the home of Reinhold Engel, when the shooting took place.

Engel was ordered held on $50,000 bail today by Judge Clayton Parks after County Attorney M. F. Kinkead said he hoped to link Engel with the slaying and with numerous bank robberies in the northwest. Engel and three of his companions were under bail until the grand jury meeting on Monday.

STEADIER TONE NOTED ON THE STOCK EXCHANGE

By ELMER C. WALZER
United Press Financial Editor

New York, Jan. 21.—A steadier tone was noted on the stock exchange today after the shakeout near the close yesterday on word that the U. S. Steel corporation would report a poor showing in the fourth quarter of 1930.

Brokers took opposite sides on the immediate trend in their advice, several expecting resumption of the rise as a result of the bolstering strength in railroad shares. Others looked for a reaction that would carry the list below December 17 lows.

United States Steel, yesterday's late target, opened unchanged at 139 1/2 and then eased to 139 1/4.

Canadian Rivers

Back river is a modern name given to replace that of Great Fish river and commemorates Admiral Sir George Back, 1796-1878, the Arctic explorer who commanded an expedition to the river in 1833-35. The name Pelly lake is due to Back who named it in 1834 after Sir John Henry Pelly (1772-1852), who was governor of the Hudson's Bay company for 30 years.

"Sea of Atlas"

The Atlantic ocean was first mentioned by that name by Herodotus, the Roman historian. The present form of the name is from the Latin Atlanticum Mare, meaning the Sea of Atlas. In ancient days the name applied only to the sea beyond Mount Atlas in north-western Africa.

(CROOKED NOSE) MELNICK,
CHICAGO GANGSTER

St. Paul, Jan. 22.—(UP)—Eddie Carnes, 38, confessed today that he killed Thomas (Crooked Nose) Melnick, Chicago gangster, in self defense, Chief of Police Thomas A. Brown announced.

Carnes was arrested with six other men during a police raid on the Boyce hotel. He told Chief Brown, according to the police headquarters announcement, that Melnick had attempted to "stick me up and I just shot him."

An unfired automatic revolver was found in Melnick's left hand when his body was found in Prescott street on Jan. 14.

Another man who was arrested in the raid, John McBride, admitted to the chief of police that he was in the home of Reinhold Engel, when the shooting took place.

Engel was ordered held on $50,000 bail today by Judge Clayton Parks after County Attorney M. F. Kinkaid said he hoped to link Engel with the slaying and with numerous bank robberies in the northwest. Engel and three of his companions were under bail until the grand jury meeting on Monday.

STEADIER TONE NOTED ON THE STOCK EXCHANGE

By ELMER C. WALKER

United Press Financial Editor
New York, Jan. 21.—A steadier tone was noted on the stock exchange today after the shakeout near the close yesterday on word that the U. S. Steel corporation would report a poor showing in the fourth quarter of 1930.

Brokers took opposite sides on the immediate trend in their advices, several expecting resumption of the rise as a result of the bolstering strength in railroad shares. Others looked for a reaction that would carry the list below December 17 lows.

United States Steel, yesterday's late target, opened unchanged at 139 1/2 and then eased to 139 1/4.

Canadian Rivers

Back river is a modern name given to replace that of Great Fish river and commemorates Admiral Sir George Back, 1796-1878, the Arctic explorer who commanded an expedition to the river in 1833-35. The name Pelly lake is due to Back who named it in 1834 after Sir John Henry Pelly (1772-1852), who was governor of the Hudson's Bay company for 30 years.

"Sea of Atlas"

The Atlantic ocean was first mentioned by that name by Herodotus, the Roman historian. The present form of the name is from the Latin Atlanticum Mare, meaning the Sea of Atlas. In ancient days the name applied only to the sea beyond Mount Atlas in north-western Africa.

LAKE LEVELS CAUSE RECORDS PROGRESS

Legislation of Congressman Knutson, Senator Shipstead Endorsed

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING HELD

Lieut. Col. Wildurr Willing Conducts Hearing at Chamber of Commerce

At the public hearing conducted by Lieutenant Colonel Wildurr Willing, United States District Engineer, at the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon, the proposed legislation of the Knutson-Shipstead bill was endorsed by 200 persons present, confirming establishing minimum levels for reservoir lakes of the northern area.

A fifteen page report by Frank N. Russell, secretary of the Minnesota Lake Levels Association, was read. The facts contained in this paper were substantiated by several dozen letters attached from commercial clubs, resort and cottage owners, wholesale houses and other business firms.

A resolution was unanimously adopted after this paper was read confirming the report.

A resolution was also adopted commending Congressmen Knutson and Pittenger and U. S. Senator Shipstead for their work and cooperation in the cause of establishing minimum lake levels.

Speakers endorsing and demanding this legislation included Senator P. H. McGarry of Walker, Representative E. P. Scallion of Crosby, Frank Heywood and Col. W. T. Mollison of Minneapolis, State Game and Fish Commissioner Stewart, Editor W. E. Wolfe of Deer River, Frank Buckman of the 10,000 Lakes-Greater Minnesota Association, George A. Perham secretary of the Minnesota Arrowhead Association and also representing the Duluth Chamber of Commerce.

The levels as set in the Knutson bill before Congress and its companion bill introduced by Senator Shipstead in the U. S. Senate, provide:

Lake	Mini-	Maximum
Winnibigishish	6 feet 14.02 feet
Leech	1 foot 5.24 feet
Pokegama	6 feet 12 feet
Sandy	7 feet 11 feet
Pine	11 feet 16 feet
Gull	5 feet 7 feet

Mr. Russell also called attention to the action of the House of the Minnesota legislature which unanimously endorsed the legislation and memorialized Congress. Since then the Senate has also passed the resolution and it was signed today by Governor Olson and forwarded to Washington.

SOME OPPOSITION AT ST. PAUL HEARING TODAY

St. Paul, Jan. 22.—(U.P.)—Three-way opposition to the Knutson bill fixing levels for northern Minnesota lakes will be voiced this afternoon at hearing in the office of United States Engineer Wildurr Willing.

The opposition will come from the city councils of St. Paul and Minneapolis and the Metropolitan drainage commission. The three groups claim the measure will jeopardize the Twin Cities' water supplies and will create a serious health menace in the Mississippi river.

The St. Paul city council today adopted a resolution asking Minnesota congressmen and senators to defeat the Knutson bill. The resolution will be read at the meeting in Willing's office and was telegraphed to the Minnesota congressional delegation.

William N. Carey, St. Paul city engineer, told councilmen that the Knutson bill would result in serious river pollution and would threaten St. Paul's water supply. With the northern Minnesota lakes now near an all-time minimum, Carey said the bill, if passed, would allow no overflow until such time as the water reached the minimum levels fixed in the bill.

Carolina Woman Lost 47 Lbs.

In 3 Months and Feels Years Younger

"I have been taking Kruschen Salts for nearly 3 months. I have continued taking one teaspoonful in warm water every morning. I then weighed 217 pounds, was always bothered with pains in my back and lower part of abdomen and sides.

"Now I am glad to say I am a well woman, feel much stronger, years younger and my weight is 170 pounds. I do not only feel better but I look better, so all my friends say.

"I shall never be without Kruschen Salts. I will never cease taking my daily dose and more than glad to highly recommend it for the great good that is in it." Mrs. S. A. Solomon, New Bern, N. C., Jan. 1929. "P. S. You may think I am exaggerating by writing such a long letter but truly I feel so indebted to you for putting out such wonderful salts that I cannot say enough."

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks costs but 35 cents at Johnson's Pharmacy, Economy Drug Co. and drugists the world over. Take one half teaspoon in glass of hot water every morning before breakfast.

Attention to diet will help—cut out pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—the Kruschen way is the safe way to lose fat. Try one bottle and if not perfectly satisfied—money back. adv.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands of Pile sufferers have learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor cutting remove the cause.

Bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak — the parts almost dead. To end Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation and strengthen the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was the first to discover a real internal Pile remedy. He called his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1000 patients with the marvelous record of success in 960 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID from their own druggist with a rigid money-back guarantee.

Dr. Leonhardt's prescription has a wonderful record of success right in this city and H. P. Dunn, Johnson's Pharmacy invite every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantee to refund the purchase price if it does not end all Pile misery. advt.

Asks: What Is ACNE?

Big Ugly PIMPLES

Yes! That's the simple answer, but Acne is more than just a big pimple—better to call it a big stubborn pimple. That's why you must fight this obstinate skin disease with something powerful enough to kill it and swiftly get the unsightly thing off the skin.

So we advise all who are so unfortunate as to have Acne to get rid of it at once and for all by using Emerald Oil, a powerful, healing, antiseptic oil that no case of Acne, Pimples or Eczema can withstand. And those itchy toes that get raw and sore—the germs that cause it are killed by Emerald Oil. Don't waste time with weak washes—Emerald Oil is guaranteed by Johnson's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere to rid you of stubborn unsightly skin troubles or money back—an $5 cent bottle lasts 2 weeks. advt.

Bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak — the parts almost dead. To end Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation and strengthen the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was the first to discover a real internal Pile remedy. He called his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1000 patients with the marvelous record of success in 960 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID from their own druggist with a rigid money-back guarantee.

Dr. Leonhardt's prescription has a wonderful record of success right in this city and H. P. Dunn, Johnson's Pharmacy invite every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantee to refund the purchase price if it does not end all Pile misery. advt.

Asks: What Is ACNE?

Big Ugly PIMPLES

Yes! That's the simple answer, but Acne is more than just a big pimple—better to call it a big stubborn pimple. That's why you must fight this obstinate skin disease with something powerful enough to kill it and swiftly get the unsightly thing off the skin. So we advise all who are so unfortunate as to have Acne to get rid of it at once and for all by using Emerald Oil, a powerful, healing, antiseptic oil that no case of Acne, Pimples or Eczema can withstand. And those itchy toes that get raw and sore—the germs that cause it are killed by Emerald Oil. Don't waste time with weak washes—Emerald Oil is guaranteed by Johnson's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere to rid you of stubborn unsightly skin troubles or money back—an 85 cent bottle lasts 2 weeks. advt.
